DEPARTMENT STRATEGY AND APPROACHES

VI MOTORES

I...describes our approach and arguments in favour of a broad-based

The History Department of Concordia University offers a wide diversity of options. Areas of faculty specialization include Europe, Europe, Latin America, the United States, Canada, and the Americas. From political and diplomatic through social and quantitative approaches to the discipline, the courses available will allow students to specialize and prepare for a variety of postgraduate and professional opportunities.

The department's approach to history is based on the belief that, first, our aim is to teach the subject matter, but also skills that bring credibility to the student's education. In this manner, History is by nature interdisciplinary. It involves oral, written and visual skills, critical, creative and analytical abilities, all of which are important in their own right. All of these abilities are increasingly demanded of modern day employees, and the value of an undergraduate degree in History is being tested. The traditional avenues of employment for History graduates - teaching, government, foreign service - are being supplemented by jobs in companies that are looking for managers, administrators and executives.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

For those students who want to broaden their education, members of the department have prepared a COURSE GUIDE a number of statements concerning the prestige and academic merits of various courses. Our students have also been invited several times to attend the Capital Council Selectivities. These presentations provide opportunities for direct participation in our undergraduate programs.

Any student who is interested in pursuing a program that includes History or who is just thinking about it - is urged to contact one of the Undergraduate Program Advisors. Appointments may be made through the general office throughout the year.

This course guide has been prepared in advance of the 1982-1983 academic year and information contained herein is subject to change.

Students are advised to check the Registration schedule for a final listing of all courses.

SECTION IDEPARTMENT STRENGTHS AND APPROACHES

The History Department of Concordia University offers its students a diversity of options. Areas of faculty specialization include Canada, Europe, Latin America, the United States, Asia and Africa and range from political and diplomatic through social and quantitative approaches to the discipline. A combination of offerings on both the Sir George Williams and the Loyola campuses are designed to satisfy the requirements and interests of both full-time and part-time students.

The future of the student of History is not as uncertain as many predict. Our aim is to teach not only the subject matter, but also skills that include analytic thinking and reporting, verbal and written communication and incisive presentation of materials. History is by nature interdisciplinary, and our students deal with economic, political, social and intellectual problems as a part of their programme. All of these abilities are increasingly recognized as important by employers, and the value of an undergraduate degree in History is being noted. The traditional avenues of employment for History graduates -- teaching, government, foreign service -- are being complemented by jobs in companies that are looking for managers, administrators and trainees.

For those students who want to continue their education, graduates of the Concordia Department of History are frequently accepted by a number of outstanding graduate programmes and prestigious law schools in both Europe, Canada and the United States. Our students have also been awarded several Woodrow Wilson, Rhodes and Canada Council Scholarships. These achievements and our students' success in their postgraduate careers, are an important recommendation for our undergraduate programme.

Any student who is interested in pursuing a programme that includes History -- or who is just thinking about it -- is urged to contact one of the Undergraduate Programme Advisors. Appointments may be made through the general office throughout the year.

CONCORDIA HISTORY STUDENTS

WHO ARE OUR HISTORY STUDENTS?

Although the majority of our students come from the Montreal area, we also have at present students from several other provinces within Canada and from a host of other nations: the U.S., Britain, the Netherlands, Nigeria, India, Hong Kong, Trinidad and Iran are all represented.

Just over half of our students come to us directly from a Quebec Cegep programme or from high schools outside the Province. Many others come to us with years of experience in the work force, attracted by our part-time, summer and qualifying year programmes.

CONCORDIA HISTORY STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

Concordia History Students Association represents a merger between two traditional organizations, Loyola History Students Association and Concordia University History Society. This merger took place in January 1982 in order to more effectively serve the needs of history students.

The Association is run by history students, and any student enrolled in at least one history course is considered a member. Since the Association relies completely upon student participation, we urge everyone to become involved. In this period of financial instability, humanities programs are especially threatened, and so it devolves upon students to take a stand and show that they care about the future of their department.

Through the medium of the Association, we participate not only in the decision-making process of our own department, but also play an active role in interdepartmental affairs by providing representation. This channelling of ideas promotes communication and cooperation within the University community.

In the past, the activities of the Association have included guest lectures, career forums, Lacolle Weekend conferences and, to lighten the intellectual load, Wine and Cheese parties where students and faculty can meet on a social basis. The Association also publishes annually a Journal containing outstanding work by students. Although we are now one Association, we still maintain two offices, one on each campus, so please contact us for more information.

I. BA HONOURS IN HISTORY -- 60 CREDITS

A. A history honours student must meet the general degree requirements as well as the specific requirements for an Honours degree.

An honours student must:

- (a) Maintain an average of 'B' or 75% in all honours history courses with no mark in History below 'C' or 65%.
- (b) Have a minimum average of 'B-' or 71% over honours courses taken in each academic year. For part-time students this will be calculated in 18 credit blocks.
- (c) Have an average in non-honours courses of no less than 'C' or 65%. The minimum acceptable grade in these courses is 'D' or 55%.
- (d) Withdraw from the Honours programme if the above conditions are not met (ie. move to the majors or specialization programme). Reinstatement in the Honours programme is possible only by appeal to the Honours Committee of the Faculty of Arts and Science.

B. Courses: The following courses in an approved sequence constitute Honours in history. Students intending to enter the Honours programme are advised to consult with the Undergraduate Programme Director.

- *6 History C201³ and C202³, or C218⁶

HISTORY OF CANADA, PRE-CONFEDERATION

INSTRUCTOR: K. Bindon

M 16:05 - 17:55

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course is designed to explore a number of themes and approaches to the pre-Confederation era in British North America. Not only chronological and political developments, but also the roles of different societies and the growth of regional traditions are examined. Thus, the Acadians and the Metis, as well as the Upper and Lower Canadians, are studied in terms of their contributions to their regional identities, and the process of Confederation is viewed in terms of the many traditions and diverse aspirations that were accommodated between 1867 and 1873. This survey, then, will introduce students to approaches, themes, events and traditions in assessing the broad historical patterns of the pre-Confederation period.

FORMAT: lecture-seminar

REQUIREMENTS: This section will be taught in both French and English. A reading knowledge of both languages is minimally required. Two book reviews and a final examination shall be required.

HISTORY OF CANADA: POST-CONFEDERATION

INSTRUCTOR: G. Decarie

W F 11:45 - 12:35

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course is a survey of Canadian history from Confederation to the present. Lectures will explore more deeply than do text-books some of the most important questions in our history. For example, how well did Sir John A. Macdonald deal with separation in Nova Scotia and Western Canada? Why, by 1900, were both major political parties financed mainly by big business dependent on a high protective tariff? Could governments really have done much more than they did to remedy the Great Depression of the 1930's? Were the Quiet Revolution and the independence movement in Quebec essentially concocted by and for a new francophone bureaucratic middle class?

FORMAT: lecture-seminar

REQUIREMENTS: Normally, students are graded on three reviews. Two are of articles and one of a book. Students who received a grade of 'B' or better in History 203 may substitute a research paper for the reviews. In all cases, there will be a final, written exam.

HISTORY OF QUEBEC: ORIGINS TO 1867

INSTRUCTOR: C. Nish

W 18:05 - 20:10

COURSE DESCRIPTION: An introductory survey of the History of Quebec from its origins as a colony to creation of modern Canada by the British North America Act of 1867. Particular emphasis will be placed on a consideration of those elements of Quebec's past which best assist in the comprehension of the trends prevalent in modern Quebec.

FORMAT: lecture

REQUIREMENTS: All candidates will be required to submit a comparative analysis of one of the pairs of books listed below. This essay will be worth 50% of the final grade.

W. Eccles, The Canadian Frontier and C. Nish, Les Bourgeois-Gentilshommes de la Nouvelle-France.

J. Hamelin, Economie et Societe en Nouvelle France, and C. Nish, Les Bourgeois-Gentilshommes de la Nouvelle France.

W. Eccles, The Canadian Frontier and C. Nish, The Nature, Composition, and Functions of the Canadian Bourgeoisie.

Candidates may choose any two other books of their own choice or a series of periodical articles for the purposes of their comparison and analysis. Permission of the instructor, however, must be gained before proceeding. All students must see the instructor before the end of September in order to choose the books or articles for their term essay. In addition, a traditional essay exam will be set at the end of the term. The final exam will be worth 50% of the final grade. In all written work, an acceptable level of English or French is expected. The format for the term essay must be that usually used in history. This format will be indicated by the instructor in his first lectures.

MATERIALS: (Required Texts) J. Hamelin, Le Canada Français, 1497-1967; G. Fregault, Canadian Society during the French Regime;

W. Eccles, The Government of New France; M. Brunet, French Canada and the Early Decades of British Rule; M. Trudel, The Seigneurial Regime; F. Ouellet, Louis-Joseph Papineau: A Divided Soul; C. Nish, French Canada, 1759-1765: Conquered? Half Conquered? Liberated?

J. C. Bonenfant, The French Canadians and the Birth of Confederation; P.B. Waite, ed., The Confederation Debates.

(Optional Texts) J. Hamelin, et. al., Histoire du Quebec; M. Trudel, L'Initiation à la Nouvelle France; M. Careless, ed., Colonists and Canadians, 1760-1860.

HISTORY OF POST CONFEDERATION QUEBEC

INSTRUCTOR: C. Nish

W 18:05 - 20:10

COURSE DESCRIPTION: A survey of the History of Quebec from the time of Confederation until modern times. While due emphasis will be placed on political developments in the Province, the purpose of the course is to acquaint the candidates with the significant economic, and social trends in modern Quebec.

REQUIREMENTS: All candidates must submit a term paper, about 2,500 words, in the usual form of history essays, on a subject to be chosen in consultation between the student and the instructor.

OR

Candidates may select any two books of their choice, on the same topic, in consultation with the instructor, and prepare an analysis and comparison of the two works selected. A series of articles on the same subject may be selected. A series of articles on the same subject may be selected in lieu of books.

The term essay will be worth 50% of the final grade.

All students must see the instructor by the end of January regarding the selection of their books or articles for analysis and comparison, and/or their term paper.
